Campus Resources

Student Support Services

Cornerstone: The Learning Center is located on the ground floor of Gregg House on the South 40, and it is the hub of academic support at Washington University in St. Louis. We provide undergraduate students with assistance in a variety of forms. Most services are free, and each year more than 2,000 students participate in one or more of our programs. For more information, visit the Cornerstone website (http://cornerstone.wustl.edu) or call 314-935-5970. The three teams housed within Cornerstone:

- Academic Mentoring Programs offer academic support in partnership with the academic departments in a variety of forms. Academic mentoring programs are designed to support students in their course work by helping them develop the lifelong skill of “learning how to learn” and by stimulating their independent thinking. Programs include: course-specific, weekly structured study groups facilitated by highly trained peer leaders; course-specific weekly walk-in sessions facilitated by academic mentors in locations, at times and in formats convenient for the students. Cornerstone also offers individual consulting/coaching for academic skills such as time management, study skills, note taking, accessing resources, etc. Other services include fee-based graduate and professional school entrance preparation courses.

- Disability Resources supports students with disabilities by fostering and facilitating an equal access environment for the Washington University community of learners. Disability Resources partners with faculty and staff to facilitate academic and housing accommodations for students with disabilities on the Danforth Campus. Students enrolled in the School of Medicine should contact their program’s director. Please visit the Disability Resources website (http://cornerstone.wustl.edu/disability-resources) or contact Cornerstone: The Learning Center at 314-935-5970 for more information.

- TRiO: Student Support Services is a federally funded program that provides customized services for undergraduate students who are low-income, the first in their family to go to college, and/or have a documented disability. Services include academic coaching, academic peer mentoring, cultural and leadership programs, summer internship assistance, and post-graduation advising. First-year and transfer students are considered for selection during the summer before entering their first semester. Eligible students are encouraged to apply when notified, as space in this program is limited.

Office for International Students and Scholars. If a student is joining the university from a country other than the United States, this office can assist that individual through its orientation programs, by issuing certificates of eligibility (visa documents), and by offering special services for non-native English speakers in the English Language Programs. In addition, the office provides personal and cross-cultural counseling and arranges social, cultural and recreational activities that foster international understanding on campus.

The Office for International Students and Scholars is located in the Stix International House at 6470 Forsyth Boulevard and on the Medical School campus in the Mid Campus Center (MCC Building), 4590 Children’s Place, Room 2043. For more information, visit the Office for International Students and Scholars website (http://oiss.wustl.edu) or call 314-935-5910.

Medical Student Support Services. For information about Medical Student Support Services, please visit the School of Medicine website (https://medicine.wustl.edu).

Relationship and Sexual Violence Prevention (RSVP) Center. The Relationship and Sexual Violence Prevention (RSVP) Center offers free and confidential services including 24/7 crisis intervention, counseling services, resources, support, and prevention education for all Danforth students. The RSVP Center operates from a public health model, utilizing trauma-informed practices to address the prevalent issues of relationship and sexual violence. Our goal in supporting impacted students is to foster post-traumatic growth and resilience to better ensure academic retention and success. Our prevention efforts call for community engagement to engender an intolerance of violence and an active stance to challenge issues that perpetuate such a culture. Learn more at the RSVP Center website (https://rsvpcenter.wustl.edu).

WashU Cares. WashU Cares assists the university in handling situations involving the safety and well-being of Danforth Campus students. As such, WashU Cares is committed to fostering student success and campus safety through a proactive, collaborative, and systematic approach to the identification, intervention, and support of students of concern while empowering all university community members to create a culture of caring. If you are concerned about the physical or mental well-being of a student, please file a WashU Cares (https://washucas.wustl.edu) report.

The Writing Center. The Writing Center, a free service, offers writing advice to all Washington University undergraduate and graduate students. Tutors will read and discuss any kind of work in progress, including student papers, senior theses, application materials, dissertations and oral presentations. The Writing Center staff is trained to work with students at any stage of the writing process, including brainstorming, developing and clarifying an argument, organizing evidence, and improving style. Rather than editing or proofreading, tutors will emphasize the process of revision and teach students how to edit their own work. Appointments (http://writingcenter.wustl.edu) are preferred and can be made online.
Student Health Services, Danforth Campus

The Habif Health and Wellness Center, formerly known as Student Health Services, provides medical and mental health care for undergraduate and graduate students. Habif staff members include licensed professionals in Medical Services, Mental Health Services, and Health Promotion Services. Please visit us in Dardick House on the South 40, or visit the Habif Health and Wellness Center website (http://shs.wustl.edu) for more information about each of our services and staff members.

Hours:
Monday, Tuesday and Thursday 8 a.m.-6 p.m.
Wednesday 10 a.m.-6 p.m.
Friday 8 a.m.-5 p.m.
Saturday 9 a.m.-1 p.m.

A nurse answer line is available to answer any medical questions a student may have when Habif is closed. For after-hours care, please call: 314-935-6666.

Medical Services staff members provide care for the evaluation and treatment of an illness or injury, preventive health care and health education, and nutrition, physical therapy, travel medicine and women’s health services. Habif Health and Wellness Center providers are considered in-network and are participating members of the Washington University in St. Louis Physician’s Network. Any condition requiring specialized medical services will be referred to an appropriate community specialist. Habif accepts most health insurance plans and will be able to bill the plan according to plan benefits when care is accessed at Habif. The student health insurance plan requires a referral any time, degree-seeking Washington University students are automatically enrolled in the Student Health Insurance Plan upon completion of registration. Students may opt out of this coverage if there is proof of existing comprehensive insurance coverage. Information concerning opting out of the student health insurance plan (http://shs.wustl.edu) can be found online after June 1 of each year. Habif does provide billing services to many of the major insurance companies in the United States. Specific fees and co-pays apply to students using Medical Services and Mental Health Services; these fees may be billable to your insurance plan. More information is available on the Habif Health and Wellness Center website (http://shs.wustl.edu).

Important Information About Health Insurance, Danforth Campus

Washington University has a student health fee designed to improve the health and wellness of the entire Washington University community. This fee supports health and wellness services and programs on campus. In addition, all full-time, degree-seeking Washington University students are automatically enrolled in the Student Health Insurance Plan upon completion of registration. Students may opt out of this coverage if there is proof of existing comprehensive insurance coverage. Information concerning opting out of the student health insurance plan (http://shs.wustl.edu) can be found online after June 1 of each year. Habif does provide billing services to many of the major insurance companies in the United States. Specific fees and co-pays apply to students using Medical Services and Mental Health Services; these fees may be billable to your insurance plan. More information is available on the Habif Health and Wellness Center website (http://shs.wustl.edu).
Student Health Services, Medical Campus

For information about student health services on the Medical Campus, please visit the Student Health Services page (http://bulletin.wustl.edu/medicine/resources/student-health) of the medical school Bulletin.

Campus Security

The Washington University campus is among the most attractive in the nation and enjoys a safe, relaxed atmosphere. Your personal safety and the security of your property while on campus is a shared responsibility. Washington University has made safety and security a priority through our commitment to a full-time professional police department, use of closed circuit television, card access, good lighting, shuttle services, emergency telephones, and ongoing educational safety awareness programs. The vast majority of crimes that occur on college campuses are crimes of opportunity, which can be prevented.

The best protection against crime is an informed, alert campus community. Washington University has developed several programs to help make your experience here a safe and secure one. An extensive network of emergency telephones, including more than 200 “blue light” telephones, is connected directly to the University Police Department and can alert the police to your exact location. In addition to the regular shuttle service, an evening walking escort service or mobile Campus Circulator is available on the Danforth Campus.

The Campus2Home shuttle will provide a safe ride home for those living in four designated areas off campus — Skinker-DeBaliviere, Loop South, north of The Loop and just south of the campus — from 6:00 p.m. to 4:00 a.m. seven days a week. The shuttle leaves from the Mallinckrodt Center and takes passengers directly to the front doors of their buildings. Shuttle drivers then will wait and watch to make sure passengers get into their buildings safely. Community members can track the shuttle using the WUSTL Mobile App. The app can be downloaded free of charge from the iOS App Store or the Google Play store.

The University Police Department is a full-service organization staffed by certified police officers who patrol the campus 24 hours a day throughout the entire year. The Police Department offers a variety of crime prevention programs including a high-security bicycle lock program, free personal-safety whistles, computer security tags, personal safety classes for women and men, property inventory services and security surveys. Community members are encouraged to download the personal safety app SafeTrek which allows users to call for help during emergencies. The SafeTrek app (https://www.safetrekapp.com/affiliate/WUSTL) can be downloaded online. For more information on these programs, check out the Washington University Police Department website (http://police.wustl.edu).

In compliance with the Campus Crime Awareness and Security Act of 1990, Washington University publishes online an annual report (http://police.wustl.edu/clery/logsandreports/Pages/default.aspx), Safety & Security: Guide for Students, Faculty, and Staff, Annual Campus Security and Fire Safety Reports, which is available to all current and prospective students on the Danforth Campus and university employees on the Danforth, North and West campuses. To request a hard copy, contact the Washington University Police Department, CB 1038, One Brookings Drive, St. Louis, MO 63130-4899, 314-935-9011.

For information regarding protective services at the School of Medicine, please visit the Security page (https://facilities.med.wustl.edu/security) of the Washington University Operations & Facilities Management Department.