Economics

The Department of Economics at Washington University has a strong reputation for preparing high-quality PhD students for academic positions as well as for private- and public-sector jobs. We are seeking qualified students from any field who possess strong analytical abilities in mathematics and statistics and who are willing to complete a challenging Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) degree in Economics. At this time, we do not offer a terminal Master of Arts (AM) in our program.

The department offers students financial support while they remain in good academic standing.

Degree Requirements

PhD in Economics

General Course Requirements

The PhD in Economics takes five years to complete and requires at least two years of courses in 500-level classes with a 3.0 grade-point average. Students may transfer up to 24 units of graduate credits completed elsewhere but are advised to make such a transfer only after consultation with the director of graduate studies.

Courses taken must include the following:

1. Microeconomic Theory and Macroeconomic Theory: 12 units (Econ 501, Econ 502, Econ 503, Econ 504); and
2. Quantitative methods and econometrics: 9 units (Econ 511, Econ 512, Econ 5161).
