

University College

University College is the professional and continuing education division of Arts & Sciences. The division offers a wide range of courses, including online formats, in a variety of academic departments and interdisciplinary and professional areas of study. Part-time and full-time study in undergraduate degree programs, graduate degree programs, and certificate programs are available. University College also operates the Summer School for both day and evening students, including a range of credit programs and noncredit institutes for high school and middle school students. University College provides career workshops for adult learners, and it is home to the Lifelong Learning Institute for senior citizens. University College sponsors special lecture series such as the Master of Liberal Arts (MLA) Saturday Lecture Series and Science Saturdays, co-sponsored with the Department of Physics. For more information, visit the University College website (<http://ucollege.wustl.edu>).

Graduate Study

University College administers the Doctor of Liberal Arts, Master of Liberal Arts, Master of Arts, and Master of Science, in coordination with the Graduate School. University College administers the Master of Science in Clinical Research Management in coordination with Washington University School of Medicine. University College also offers a range of graduate-level certificate programs (<http://bulletin.wustl.edu/grad/ucollege/certificates>).

To earn the Doctor of Liberal Arts degree (<http://bulletin.wustl.edu/grad/ucollege/doctor-liberal-arts>) at Washington University, a student must complete 45 credit hours after earning a relevant master's degree, pass a written and oral comprehensive examination, and write and defend a thesis.

Master's degree programs (<http://bulletin.wustl.edu/grad/ucollege/masters>) in University College consist of 30-36 units of graduate-level course work including, in some cases, a 6-unit master's thesis or a 3-unit directed research project.

Normally, up to 6 units of related graduate-level study, with a grade of B or higher, may be transferred to a graduate program. All other course work must be taken at Washington University. Only courses taken for a letter grade may be applied to a graduate program of study. Courses taken as pass/fail or audit will not count toward a graduate program of study.* Grades below C- will not count toward a graduate degree program of study. Students must maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 to be eligible to receive a graduate degree.

Please visit the University College website (<http://ucollege.wustl.edu>) or call 314-935-6700 for more detailed information, requirements, and policies concerning specific graduate degree programs.

Admission

Admission to the Doctor of Liberal Arts (<http://bulletin.wustl.edu/grad/ucollege/doctor-liberal-arts>) program is extremely competitive. Candidates must already hold a master's degree in a relevant subject from an accredited institution of higher learning. The application deadline is April 1 for the fall semester, and October 15 for the spring semester. Please visit the University College website (<http://ucollege.wustl.edu>) for more detailed admissions requirements and information about the Doctor of Liberal Arts.

Admission to master's degree programs is competitive and open on a selective basis to qualified individuals who have earned a baccalaureate degree. University College and the Graduate School review completed applications and make admissions decisions on a rolling basis for master's degree programs. The process typically takes four to six weeks. Accordingly, master's degree applicants should submit materials according to the following schedule in order to ensure a timely decision: mid-November for spring; mid-April for summer; mid-July for fall. Please visit the University College website (<http://ucollege.wustl.edu>) for additional program-specific admission requirements.
