MSW Dual and Joint Degrees

We feature structured joint- and dual-degree programs that allow students to earn a Master of Social Work degree in combination with one of the following degrees from the top-ranked schools of Washington University.

- Master of Public Health (MPH) (http://bulletin.wustl.edu/prior/2017-18/brownschool/msw-mph)
- Master of Architecture (MArch) or Master of Urban Design (MUD) (http://bulletin.wustl.edu/prior/2017-18/brownschool/msw-march-mud)
- Master of Arts in Education (MAEd) (http://bulletin.wustl.edu/prior/2017-18/brownschool/msw-maed)
- Master of Business Administration (MBA) (http://bulletin.wustl.edu/prior/2017-18/brownschool/msw-mba)
- Law (JD) (http://bulletin.wustl.edu/prior/2017-18/brownschool/msw-jd)

We also offer two additional joint degrees in partnership with Eden Theological Seminary (http://www.eden.edu/s/1645/start.aspx):

- Master of Divinity (MDiv) (http://bulletin.wustl.edu/prior/2017-18/brownschool/msw-mdiv)
- Master of Arts in Pastoral Studies (MAPS) (http://bulletin.wustl.edu/prior/2017-18/brownschool/msw-maps)

Note: To enter a joint-degree program, students must apply to each school separately and be admitted to both. Applicants interested in the MSW/MPH dual degree must apply to the Brown School's social work (https://brownschool.wustl.edu/academics/master-of-social-work/MSW-application-information) and public health (https://brownschool.wustl.edu/academics/master-of-public-health/MPH-application-instructions) programs separately.

For more information about any of these programs, contact Admissions (https://brownschool.wustl.edu/pages/contact-us.aspx).
