Henry Edwin Sever Institute

With the Sever Institute’s flexible schedules, both new and experienced professionals can keep their careers moving forward while developing the knowledge and credentials that will set them apart. Our graduate students seek to lead the way in making an impact on the wide range of organizational and technical opportunities and challenges in engineering, information technology, cybersecurity, construction, and complex operational environments. The experientially-driven curriculum and course work will increase students’ knowledge and expertise. Those who complete our programs are prepared to step into leadership roles and make a real difference in both their organizations and the world.

Degree Programs

- Master of Construction Management
- Master of Cybersecurity Management
- Master of Engineering Management
- Master of Information Systems Management

Online Degree Programs

- Online Master of Cybersecurity Management
- Online Master of Engineering Management
- Online Master of Health Care Operational Excellence

Graduate Certificates

- Graduate Certificate in Construction Management
- Graduate Certificate in Cybersecurity Management
- Graduate Certificate in Engineering Management
- Graduate Certificate in Health Care Operational Excellence

Online Graduate Certificates

- Online Graduate Certificate in Cybersecurity Management

Email: sever@wustl.edu
Website: https://sever.wustl.edu