Korean

The Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures (EALC) offers a major and a minor in Korean language and culture. As a major in Korean, a student can expect to gain some proficiency in the language and to acquire a foundation in Korean literature, history and culture from earliest times to the present. All students majoring in Korean must complete first- and second-level Korean or their equivalent. They also must complete a prerequisite 200-level civilization course, two literature/culture courses, and additional advanced-level (300- and 400-level) courses. In addition, all prime majors must complete the required EALC capstone experience.

The department strongly encourages the overseas study of Korean language and culture. All majors and minors are expected to maintain at least a B- average in all departmental courses.

Language Placement: Placement tests are required for all students entering our language programs, with the exception of those students who have had no previous exposure to the language and wish to enroll in the first semester of the first year of instruction. Students who test into second-year Korean and satisfactorily complete (with a grade of B- or better) at least one semester of language study may petition for 3 units of retroactive credit; students who test into third year or above and satisfactorily complete (with a grade of B- or better) at least one semester of language study may petition for 6 units of retroactive credit. Credit is limited to 3 units for those testing into second year and 6 units for those testing into the third year or above. Please note that students with native language proficiency as determined by the Korean language section as well as students who enroll in courses below their placement level are ineligible for retroactive credit units. Students who misrepresent their language proficiency so as to gain entrance into a course at the elementary or intermediate level will be dropped from that course.

Majors

The Major in Korean Language and Culture

Units required: Eight courses for a minimum of 24 upper-level (300-level or above) units

Prerequisites:

1. First- and second-level modern Korean or the equivalent
2. Korean 223C Korean Civilization

Requirements:

Eight courses for a minimum of 24 advanced (300-level or above) units, including the following:

1. Korean 352 Literature of Modern and Contemporary Korea
2. Korean 355 Topics in Korean Literature and Culture
3. 400-level capstone course (prime majors):
   Korean prime majors may satisfy their capstone requirement in one of two ways, both of which require a presentation at the EALC Senior Symposium in the spring:
   a. Successful completion of a senior honors thesis. This option, which also entitles the student to Latin Honors, requires a minimum grade-point average of 3.65. The thesis is researched and written over two semesters for a total of 6 units, which are in addition to the 24 upper-level units required for the major.
   b. Successful completion of an approved 400-level seminar course, to be taken during the senior year. This course may be included among the 24 advanced units required for the major.

Additional Information

1. With adviser approval, students may include one course in a related area offered outside the department among the 24 advanced units. (For example, a student with focus on Korea/Korean may take one course in Film and Media Studies or Art History that focuses on Korea.) With adviser approval, students may count one course from another area within the department among the 24 advanced units. (For example, a student with focus on Korea/Korean may take one course in either Chinese or Japanese.)

2. Students must earn at least a B- in a language course in order to continue to the next level. They must also maintain at least a B- average in all required courses for the major. Students who do not meet this requirement may either repeat the course or courses in question or earn at least a B- in an approved equivalent course or courses (either during the summer or in a study abroad program).

3. Courses for the major may not be taken credit/no credit.

4. Core courses (i.e., Korean 223C, Korean 352, and Korean 355) should be taken in residence.
5. Up to 6 units of credit may be applied toward the major from one semester abroad, and up to 12 units of credit may be applied from two semesters abroad. Note that EALC no longer distinguishes study abroad credits earned in advanced language courses from those credits earned in other content (non-language) courses.

6. No more than 3 units of independent study may be counted toward the required 24 upper-level units.

7. EALC awards Departmental Honors to majors as an acknowledgment of exemplary work in the major.

- Korean 437 and Korean 438 can fulfill either the language requirement or an upper-level elective requirement.
- Courses for the minor may not be taken credit/no credit.
- Core courses (i.e., Korean 223C, Korean 352, and Korean 355) should be taken in residence.
- No more than 3 units of transfer or study abroad non-language courses may be applied toward the minor.

Courses

L51 Korean 107 Basic Korean I
Basic Korean I is a slower-paced class that covers half of the content of First-Level Modern Korean I (L51 117D). This course is designed for students who are interested in learning Korean language but who cannot commit the time required for the regular 5-credit class. The course emphasizes the acquisition of all four areas of language function -- listening, speaking, reading, and writing -- as well as intercultural competence. Upon completion of Basic Korean II, students can join First-Level Modern Korean II (L51 118) in the spring semester. Basic Korean I and Basic Korean II do not fulfill the language sequence requirement. Credit 3 units. A&S IQ: HUM, LCD BU: HUM EN: H

L51 Korean 108 Basic Korean II
Basic Korean II is the second course in the slower-paced Basic Korean language curriculum sequence, and it will cover the content of the second half of First-Level Modern Korean I (L51 117D). This course is designed for students who are interested in learning the Korean language but who cannot commit the time required for the regular 5-credit class. The course will use the same textbook and learning materials that are used for the First-Level Modern Korean I course. The course emphasizes the acquisition of all areas of language function -- listening, speaking, reading, and writing -- as well as intercultural competence. Upon completion of Basic Korean II, students can join First-Level Modern Korean II (L51 118) in the spring semester. Basic Korean I and Basic Korean II do not fulfill the language sequence requirement or the two-semester language requirement for the Korean minor. Credit 3 units. A&S IQ: HUM, LCD EN: H

L51 Korean 117D First-Level Modern Korean I
Introduction to the modern spoken and written language of Korea. Acquisition of the fundamentals of grammar, morphology and oral communication skills. Note: students with some previous Korean language background must take the placement examination. Credit 5 units. A&S IQ: LCD, BU: HUM EN: H

L51 Korean 118D First-Level Modern Korean II
Emphasis is placed upon the understanding, speaking, reading and writing of Korean. Continuation of the acquisition of the fundamentals of grammar and morphology. Prerequisite: grade of B- or better in Korean 117D or placement by examination. Credit 5 units. A&S IQ: LCD, BU: HUM EN: H

L51 Korean 217 Second-Level Modern Korean I
Second-year course in standard modern Korean. Emphasis is placed upon speaking, reading and writing of modern Korean. Prerequisite: grade of B- or better in Korean 118D or placement by examination. Credit 5 units. A&S IQ: LCD, BU: HUM EN: H

Continuation of second-year course in standard modern Korean. Prerequisite: grade of B- or better in Korean 217 or placement by examination. Credit 5 units. A&S IQ: LCD, BU: HUM EN: H
L51 Korean 223C Korean Civilization
A comprehensive introduction to the study of Korea. Following a historical survey, the course examines key cultural themes and social institutions and explores aspects of Korea's relationship with its East Asian neighbors. Attention also is paid to contemporary issues, social problems and cultural trends. Credit 3 units. A&S IQ: HUM, LCD, SD Arch: HUM Art: HUM BU: IS EN: H

L51 Korean 298 Korean Undergraduate Teaching Assistants
In this course undergraduate students with native or near native proficiency in Korean assist in the first-, second-, and third-level modern Korean language classes by serving as one-on-one session tutors, lab drill and practice session tutors, or discussion leaders under close supervision of the faculty. Students can only enroll in the class with permission from the faculty member. Interested students must contact Professor Kim (mmkim@wustl.edu) for information. Credit 1 unit.

L51 Korean 2980 Undergraduate Internship in Korean
Students receive credit for a faculty-directed and approved internship. Registration requires the completion of the Learning Agreement, which the student obtains from the Career Center and which must be filled out and signed by the Career Center and the faculty sponsor prior to beginning internship work. Credit should correspond to actual time spent in work activities (e.g., eight to ten hours a week for thirteen or fourteen weeks to receive 3 units of credit; 1 or 2 credits for fewer hours). Credit/no credit only. Credit variable, maximum 3 units.

L51 Korean 299 Independent Study
Prerequisite: permission of the instructor and the department chair. Credit variable, maximum 6 units.

L51 Korean 352 Literature of Modern and Contemporary Korea
This undergraduate course surveys the major writers and works of 20th-century Korean literature. During the 20th century, Korea went through a radical process of modernization. From its colonization by Japan to its suffering of a civil war within the cold war order to its growth into a cultural and economic powerhouse, Korea's historical experience is at once unique and typical of that of a third-world nation. By immersing ourselves in the most distinctive literary voices from Korea, we examine how the Korean experience of modernization was filtered through its cultural production. In class discussions, we pay special attention to the writers' construction of the self and the nation. How do social categories such as ethnicity, class, gender, and race figure in the varying images of the self? How do these images relate to the literary vision of the nation? Along the way, we observe the prominent ideas, themes, and genres of Korean literature. This class combines discussion with lecture, with students strongly encouraged to participate. All literary texts are in English translation and no previous knowledge of Korean is required. Credit 3 units. A&S IQ: HUM, LCD, SD Arch: HUM Art: HUM BU: IS EN: H

L51 Korean 370 When Tigers Smoke: Songs and Stories from Traditional Korea
This course has two purposes: (1) to introduce major works and topics in Korean classical literature and the cultural world in which they were produced and (2) to explore modern reimaginings of these historical works and events and wider context through contemporary literature and film. The former involves a journey through various genres, including foundation myths, songs, biographies, essays, poetry, fiction, memoirs, letters and oral performance, all produced before the 20th century. For a modern perspective, we turn to films, memoirs, letters and oral performance, all produced before the 20th century. For a modern perspective, we turn to films, dramas, cartoons and short stories, which serve as our basis for discussing the modern recreations of historical events, characters, and Korean culture more broadly. In addition to details of the works themselves, topics will include Korea's place in the context of a Sino-centric world order; the significance of two writing systems, hanmun (literary Chinese) and han'gul (Korean vernacular writing); gender and literary practice; and the dynamic relationship between tradition and creativity. No knowledge of Korean history or language is required. All readings in English. Credit 3 units. A&S IQ: HUM, LCD BU: IS EN: H

L51 Korean 403 Topics in East Asian Religions
Topics in East Asian Religions is a course for advanced undergraduate and graduate students on specific themes and methodological issues in East Asian religions. Same as L23 Re St 403 Credit 3 units. A&S IQ: HUM, LCD Arch: HUM Art: HUM EN: H

L51 Korean 4181 Sexuality and Gender in East Asian Religions
In this course we will explore the role of women in the religious traditions of China, Japan and Korea, with a focus on Buddhism, Daoism, Shamanism, Shinto and the so-called “New Religions.” We will begin by considering the images of women (whether mythical or historical) in traditional religious scriptures and historical or literary texts. We will then focus on what we know of the actual experience and practice of various types of religious women — nuns and abbesses, shamans and mediums, hermits and recluses, and ordinary laywomen — both historically and in more recent times. Class materials will include literary and religious texts, historical and ethnological studies, biographies and memoirs, and occasional videos and films. Prerequisites: This class will be conducted as a seminar, with minimal lectures, substantial reading and writing, and lots of class discussion. For this reason, students who are not either upper-level undergraduates or graduate students, or who have little or no background in East Asian religion or culture, will need to obtain the instructor's permission before enrolling. Credit 3 units. A&S IQ: HUM, LCD, SC, SD Arch: HUM Art: HUM EN: H

L51 Korean 427 Fourth-Level Modern Korean I
Fourth-year course in standard modern Korean (advanced level). Emphasis is placed on developing proficiency in all four areas of language skills (speaking, listening, reading and writing) beyond the intermediate level. Prerequisite: grade of B- or better in Korean 418 or placement by examination. Credit 3 units. A&S IQ: LCD, LS BU: IS EN: H

L51 Korean 428 Fourth-Level Modern Korean II
Continuation of the fourth-year course in standard modern Korean. Emphasis is placed upon the further development of speaking, listening, reading and writing, beyond the intermediate level.
