

Undergraduate Visiting Students

The Undergraduate Visiting Student offerings in Arts & Sciences at Washington University in St. Louis provide opportunities for qualified individuals to register for undergraduate courses in Arts & Sciences on a non-degree basis.

Permission to register under this arrangement does not constitute or imply admission to a degree program at Washington University. However, qualified visiting students may apply for admission at a future date to one of the degree-granting divisions of the university. Courses taken during visiting status may be applied to a degree program at Washington University only if authorized by the appropriate academic division.

Students seeking admission to an undergraduate degree program at Washington University should contact the Office of Undergraduate Admissions (admissions@wustl.edu). Students seeking admission to a graduate degree program in Arts & Sciences at Washington University should contact the Office of the Graduate School (graduateschool@wustl.edu). Individuals wishing to pursue non-degree course work in art, architecture, business or engineering should contact those schools directly for information relating to non-degree study. High school students wishing to pursue non-degree coursework at Washington University should contact the Early College Scholars Program (precollege@wustl.edu).

Academic Year Opportunities

Undergraduate Visiting Student offerings during the academic year are designed for individuals who are currently undergraduate degree candidates in good standing from other colleges or universities who wish to take a leave of absence from their home institutions and enroll full-time in undergraduate courses at Washington University on a temporary basis.

Policies and Procedures

- Eligibility for visiting student status includes current matriculation in good standing and completion of at least one semester of full-time study (12 or more units) at another accredited college or university with a 3.0 minimum grade-point average in previous college work.
- Undergraduate visiting students may register for a minimum of 12 units and a maximum of 21 units of course work during a single semester.
- Undergraduate visiting students are eligible to register for a maximum of two semesters of full-time study at Washington University.
- All course enrollments are on a space-available basis and subject to instructor and Arts & Sciences approval.

- Undergraduate visiting students register for courses with an academic adviser and pay tuition and course-related fees in full at the time of registration.
- Visiting students are not eligible for federal or institutional financial assistance.
- International students are eligible to apply for non-degree study as undergraduate visiting students if they already hold a visa that permits full-time study.
- Individuals wishing to participate in Undergraduate Visiting Student opportunities in Arts & Sciences during the academic year should contact Ashley June Moore, Director of Programmatic Initiatives, at college@wustl.edu.

Housing

On-campus housing is not available to visiting students. Off-campus housing, however, is available. For more information about housing options, please contact the Office of Residential Life (<http://reslife.wustl.edu>) at reslife@wustl.edu or Quadrangle Housing (<https://quadrangle.wustl.edu/>) at quadrangle@wustl.edu.

Summer Session Opportunities

Students from other colleges/universities and post-baccalaureates are eligible to enroll in summer courses as visiting students in the College of Arts & Sciences.

Policies and Procedures

- To be eligible to enroll, students must be at least 18 years of age by the start of the session and meet one or more of the following eligibility criteria:
 - Be a matriculated undergraduate student at another U.S. college or university
 - Be a matriculated international undergraduate student attending a U.S. college or university
 - Be a post-baccalaureate student taking a gap year or looking for academic enrichment
- Additional eligibility requirements are as follows:
 - The student must be in good academic standing (a transcript will be required during the enrollment process). Good standing is defined as having a minimum 3.0 grade-point average on a 4.0 scale.
 - International students must be able to verify fluency in the English language by providing a minimum TOEFL score of 90 (iBT) or a minimum IELTS Academic score of 6.5. Students may request a waiver based on the current standards of English Proficiency Certification (<https://students.wustl.edu/english-proficiency-certification/>) set by the Office for International Students and Scholars.

(Please refer to the Summer Session visiting student eligibility requirements (<https://summersession.wustl.edu/visiting-student-program/>) for additional clarification.)

- Any student who has been suspended or dismissed from any school within Washington University may not register without written permission from their former dean.
- Individuals wishing to enroll as visiting students in Arts & Sciences during the Summer Session must complete the enrollment request form (<https://summersession.wustl.edu/visiting-student-program/>) and provide all requested information.
